New Halayeb Egyptian Granite

Elegant Egyptian Granite with a Refined Black & White Character

New Halayeb Granite is a distinctive Egyptian natural stone known for its contrasting black, white, and gray mineral pattern. Its balanced appearance creates a versatile architectural surface that works well in both contemporary and traditional projects.

With the strength and natural character of Egyptian granite, New Halayeb is particularly suitable for projects requiring a durable material with a clean, recognizable appearance.

Applications

New Halayeb Granite is suitable for a wide range of interior and exterior applications, including:

- Countertops and vanity tops
- Interior and exterior flooring
- Exterior façades
- Wall cladding
- Paving and walkways
- Steps and staircases
- Landscape features
- Architectural elements
- Commercial and public spaces
- Custom stone projects

Available Finishes

At Nileox Stone, New Halayeb Granite can be supplied in a variety of finishes depending on the required appearance and application:

Polished | Honed | Flamed | Bush Hammered | Brushed | Sandblasted | Antique

Custom finishes are also available according to project specifications.

Sizes & Custom Fabrication

New Halayeb Granite can be supplied as slabs, tiles, pavers, steps, countertops, wall cladding, and custom cut-to-size pieces.

Dimensions, thicknesses, edge profiles, surface finishes, and custom fabrication can be produced according to architectural drawings and project requirements.

Distinctive Natural Pattern

The combination of black, white, and gray mineral grains gives New Halayeb Granite a naturally textured appearance while maintaining an overall neutral color palette.

A polished finish highlights the contrast and mineral structure of the stone, while Flamed, Bush Hammered, and Sandblasted finishes create a more textured appearance suitable for exterior paving, steps, and architectural applications.

Egyptian Granite for Versatile Architectural Design

From countertops and flooring to façades, paving, steps, and custom architectural elements, New Halayeb Egyptian Granite combines natural character, versatile colors, and the enduring appeal of Egyptian granite.
