Red Aswan Egyptian Granite

Distinctive Egyptian Red Granite with Timeless Strength

Red Aswan Granite is one of Egypt's most distinctive natural stones, recognized for its rich red to reddish-pink background with naturally distributed black, gray, and mineral grains.

Quarried in the Aswan region of southern Egypt, this granite combines a bold natural appearance with the strength and durability associated with granite, making it suitable for demanding architectural, commercial, landscape, and decorative applications.

Its distinctive color gives projects a strong visual identity while reflecting the character of Egyptian natural stone.

Applications

Red Aswan Granite is suitable for a wide range of interior and exterior applications, including:

- Exterior façades
- Wall cladding
- Interior and exterior flooring
- Paving and walkways
- Steps and staircases
- Countertops and vanity tops
- Landscape features
- Columns and architectural elements
- Monuments and memorials
- Commercial and public projects

Available Finishes

At Nileox Stone, Red Aswan Granite can be produced in a variety of finishes depending on the architectural application:

Polished | Honed | Flamed | Bush Hammered | Brushed | Sandblasted | Antique

Custom finishes are also available according to project requirements.

Sizes & Custom Fabrication

Red Aswan Granite can be supplied as slabs, tiles, pavers, steps, wall cladding, architectural elements, monuments, and custom cut-to-size pieces.

Dimensions, thicknesses, edge profiles, surface finishes, and custom fabrication can be produced according to architectural drawings and project specifications.

Natural Color & Character

The rich red background and naturally contrasting mineral structure give Red Aswan Granite a distinctive appearance that works particularly well in projects requiring a strong and recognizable natural stone.

A polished finish enhances the depth and richness of its red color, while textured finishes such as Flamed, Bush Hammered, or Sandblasted create a more natural architectural appearance suitable for exterior and landscape applications.

Egyptian Granite Built for Lasting Architecture

From façades and flooring to paving, monuments, countertops, and custom architectural elements, Red Aswan Egyptian Granite combines distinctive natural color with the durability and timeless character of Egyptian granite.
