Triesta (Sinai Pearl) Egyptian Limestone

Warm Beige Egyptian Limestone with Natural Fossil Character

Triesta Limestone, also known as Sinai Pearl, is a distinctive Egyptian limestone characterized by its warm beige tone, fine natural texture, and visible fossil and shell formations.

Its balanced color and subtle natural variation create a sophisticated yet organic appearance, making Triesta an excellent choice for architectural, landscape, and exterior applications.

The naturally embedded fossil details give the stone an authentic character while maintaining a relatively consistent overall appearance across large installations.

Applications

Triesta Limestone is ideal for:

- Pool decks and pool coping
- Patios and terraces
- Walkways and paving
- Exterior façades
- Wall cladding
- Interior and exterior flooring
- Steps and staircases
- Landscape features
- Residential and commercial projects

Available Finishes

At Nileox Stone, Triesta Limestone can be produced in a variety of finishes to create different architectural textures and appearances:

Tumbled | Chiseled Edge | Bush Hammered | Brushed | Honed | Sandblasted | Antique

Custom finish combinations are also available according to project requirements.

Sizes & Custom Fabrication

Triesta Limestone can be supplied as tiles, pavers, pool coping, steps, wall cladding, and custom cut-to-size pieces.

Dimensions, thicknesses, edge profiles, and surface finishes can be customized according to architectural drawings and project specifications.

Natural Fossil Beauty

One of the defining features of Triesta Limestone is its naturally occurring fossil and shell formations, visible throughout the stone.

Combined with its warm beige background, these natural details create depth and character without overpowering the overall design.

Authentic Egyptian Limestone for Timeless Architecture

From pool surrounds and outdoor living areas to façades, paving, and architectural cladding, Triesta (Sinai Pearl) offers a warm, natural appearance that works beautifully with both contemporary and traditional architecture.
